CIRK BIZ'ART presents

BOUCAN

CREATION 2019

BOUCAN

COMEDY, CIRCUS, TIME TRAVEL

BOUCAN is an explosive cocktail of physical theater, contemporary circus, live music, time travel, and above all, comedy. Originally based on Beckett's Waiting for Godot BOUCAN quickly developed into an original experience of love and laughter where together we expose the great absurdity – and beauty – of life.

Disciplines	Clown - Partner Acrobatics - Object Manipulation - Dance - Physical Comedy - Beatbox

Beatboxer	Matthieu "Joos" Jacinto / Alexis Goulene
Directors	Laurie Roger, Rémy Bombled, Jonah Katz

Duration	About 1h13. For all audiences - except sensitive parents
Venue	Theater, Circus Tent, Dome, Outdoors under certain conditions...

As the audience enters the party is already swingin'. Boisterous conversations, laughter, loud music, smoke, lasers, and multicolored lights can all be perceived as certain partygoers emerge from behind the curtain. The intensity crescendos as the public settles into their seats, culminating in a burst of fun and joy before gradually sinking into a deep, heavy, post-party silence...

The curtain falls, and as the haze clears an abhorrent scene is revealed. Everywhere lie the remains of an epic party: a table on end, torn clothing, destroyed decorations, an inanimate body... Emerging one by one from the rubble, the leftover guests have one goal: tidy up.

At the whim of the DJ the three partiers sail between memories and the task at hand recollecting the night before. Absurd revelations, improbable situations, unexpected cascades of comedy, help from the audience —everything will be done to share the madness of celebration and reveal the personalities, relationships, and the story which caused the destruction.

February 2019 BOUCAN premiered as part of the 3rd Biennale Internationale des Arts du Cirque, in Ensuès la Redonne (13)

Intention

"Let us do something, while we have the chance! It is not every day that we are needed. Not indeed that we personally are needed. Others would meet the case equally well, if not better. To all mankind they were addressed, those cries for help still ringing in our ears! But at this place, at this moment of time, all mankind is us, whether we like it or not. Let us make the most of it, before it is too late!"

Vladimir in "Waiting for Godot" by Samuel Beckette

Why do people like to party?

Parties are corrosive to our social barriers and create an environment where status and reputation matter less than being present and connected. This socialization is a quality so human that some say parties are "inscribed in human DNA ". We become elements of the same movement of sharing, interaction, and equality.

By bringing our audiences together without discrimination, to meet and celebrate together, we offer a unique and fun-filled experience of love and laughter shared by all. Our goal is for each audience member to leave with laughter-induced soreness, a lightness of being, a nourished desire to live fully in the present, and a higher capacity to think critically of social construct.

Free to celebrate and celebrate to be free!

A party is a time freed from constraints. Like the carnivals of old, it is a moment outside the daily life one chooses to live, far from the necessities of production and work, responsibilities, schedules, and status. A moment of letting go.

During a celebration, trust and unbridled imagination take precedence over judgment and rationality, thus paving the way for human connection and creative abundance. We'll admit sometimes in excess...

1 Claude Fouillen, Sociologist - The Universe of Raves

Yes, but after ?

After the party, the comedown.
The return to reality. To the routine. The return to “civilization.”
The time to retrieve one’s senses, to return to earth.

Regrets? Nostalgia? Desire?
What do we retain from this festive moment of forgetting?

Some use a party to take a step back from their life, their environment, and the mechanisms of the world around them, then relocate immediately within their daily conventional framework. Some even prefer to deny the person they were the night before.

A few attempt to draw inspiration from this party-induced liberation to broaden the possibilities in their daily lives.

For many, returning to reality after a great celebration can be difficult - it takes time to regain one's socialized mind. As soon as we have managed to resume the normal course of our existence, what do we wait for? The next opportunity to shed our daily lives? The next party?

BOUCAN

Noun
The action of making noise, generally used to denote a deafening racket. Marseille slang meaning noisy, boisterous, or pandemonium. It can be applied to a person possessing these qualities. "You, my friend, are a real boucan!"

For us, this title evokes festivity, music, dance, eccentricity, and an unbridled moment of honest expression.

Why this show?
Like everything in life, it's all about dosage. In excess a party can have consequences of which one is only fully aware afterwards. Our idea is to build another post-party tomorrow: one that nurtures, leaving aside self-destruction.

"If your revolution does not sing, does not dance, do not invite me to your revolution."

Subcommandante Marcos, Zapatista movement in Chiapas, Mexico.

A Classic Masterpiece

How to treat seriousness with lightness, and lightness with weight ?

With proper thought, this question is both absurd and absurdly deep. At face value it seems silly, but if gravity is synonymous with seriousness and weight with importance, this question demands consideration. This paradox between extreme depth and superficiality is engrained within the masterpiece, Waiting for Godot, by Samuel Beckett.

Although at first glance the context of BOUCAN and that of Beckett's play seem very distant, the conditions of life experienced by Beckett's principal characters, Vladimir and Estragon, are parallel to those experienced the day after a big party setting a groundwork for exploration into philosophy, simplicity, and absurdity – a clown's goldmine!

While Waiting for Godot is a theatrical standard, it is mostly described as a piece where nothing happens. The lack of action is crossed by absurd situations and the witty intrigue of hope, reason, religion, social construct, and simple existence.

Beginning with this text, BOUCAN developed into a show without words. While still taking inspiration from Waiting for Godot (set, character traits, relationships, construction of certain moments) BOUCAN grew into a whole other animal. Maybe one day it too will be regarded as a classic...

Beckett never gave an explanation of who or what is Godot. In our show Godot inspired the BOUCAN – the party – which, upon arrival, will release the audience and characters on stage from their banal routine.

A Generational Wink

Laurie, Jonah, and Rémy were born between 1980 and '90 into a generation destined to endure the widespread hangover of society: a period marked by mass unemployment, the discovery of AIDS, the advent of GMOs, globalization, Neoliberalism, climate change... the end of utopia.

For a whole generation, the impression left was that the great carefree party of the 1960's and '70s was behind us, so the partygoers birthed the custodial crew.

However, we won't clean without protest, expression, and ramifications. Thus emerged many dissenting cultural identities such as Hip Hop, the punk movement, the rave party, and so on.

The 90s were a colorful, creative, and crazy period of imagination that we claim. Although accessible to all ages, our own experiences from our own generation naturally influence the atmosphere of our show, BOUCAN.

The Company

Cirk biZ'arT is a French-American circus company based at The Morozoff in Marseille, France. Since its creation in 2014, Cirk biZ'arT has toured worldwide in festivals, theaters, and circus tents with the intention of generating laughter everywhere from everyone,. They mix clown, object manipulation, dance, and acrobatics, while comedy and improvisation remain central disciplines.

Their story begins in 2013 in an undersized blue caravan at a circus festival in Nantes, France. Trapped inside by the pouring rain, Laurie, Jonah, and Rémy quickly laughed their way into a deeply artistic friendship. They discovered their mutual love for the stage, circus, comedy, and adventure.

That same year they performed a combination of their respective shows in the form of a cabaret gone awry for friends and family at The Morozoff. Foolishly thinking that was the end of Cirk biZ'arT, they "accidentally" performed in the Collectif des Possibles at the 2015 edition of the Aurillac Festival. Without much rehearsal, marketing materials, or reputation the biZ'arTs realized their show was gold when it was met by an overwhelming positive response from both public and producers alike. They had created a well-oiled 60-minute laughter machine.

In January 2015, they invited themselves to the first Biennale Internationale des Arts du Cirque de Marseille by mischievously convincing Archaos (the organizers) to book Cirk biZ'arT as guests under the Magic Mirror Spiegeltent. The miraculous success of the first few shows convinced Archaos to extend Cirk biZ'arT until the end of the Biennale. There was no denying that this show, which started as a joke, had a bright future ahead.

… The Artists in the Lights

Jonah Katz (artist) alias "The Stomach"
Jonah is a versatile physical comedian with skills in clown, theater, juggling, tap dance, and acrobatics. With training from the Clown Conservatory of San Francisco, Master LuYi's Professional Acrobatics Program, Cité du Cirque Marcel Marceau, the Nanjing Acrobatic Troupe, Circus Oz, and Circo Criollo, he has performed on every continent (except Antarctica) both in streets and on stages. Events include: the Wuqiao Festival, the Melbourne International Comedy Festival, the BIAC Marseille, and the QueenieMoon Conspiracy Show. He directed Dream Canteen and Haibao Restaurant in China, and founded several companies with his partners. His solo, Tappling, won both the Grand Award of the Audience and the Koblenz Award at the 2025 Newcomershow at Krystallpalast Varieté in Leipzig, Germany.

Laurie Roger (artist) alias "The Nuts"
Born to a clown father and an actress mother, Laurie began intensive gymnastics and performing at the age of six with the company Les Culbutos. She graduated in 2009 from the National Circus School of Châtellerault and also completed professional acrobatic training at the Circus Center in San Francisco under Master LuYi. She co-founded Cirque en Déroute, Chuck & Charlotte, and Cirk biZ'arT, and tours worldwide as a clown and acrobat. In 2019, she fell in love with the beatmaker of Intérieur Cuir; they now have two children. In 2023, she also joined Compagnie 100 Issues for the creation of Bluff. Then, in 2026, she co-created a new all-female project within ROLLMOPS! Rich in experience, street performance remains her favorite and most natural artistic environment.

Rémy Bombled (artist) alias "The Heart"
Rémy began circus very young, using it on the street to pay for his education… and his vacations (Company HUK). However, Remy was first destined to have a career in humanitarianism. On his return from South America, where he attended the La Tarumba circus school (Lima), he created the company Les Vents Contraires with Jérôme Sersiron, wrote and performed Ilababor in 2010 and Bulle de Rien in 2012, organized Festival Circo Loco, and co-founded the Collectif des Possibles. In 2013, he performed Shakespeare's King Lear with Alambik Company. Rémy graduated from the Jango Edwards' Master Clown Institute and completed two levels of physical comedy and slapstick with Elise Ouvrier Buffet. He's lived in Marseille for several years where he develops projects within The Morozoff while nourishing his love for adventure.

Matthieu "Joos" Jacinto (beatboxer) alias "The Mouth"
Multidisciplinary musician and human beatboxer, Joos was born in Aurillac and grew up immersed in the Festival International de Théâtre de Rue (ECLAT). Now based in Marseille, he discovered beatboxing in 2005 thanks to the group PHM (later half of Under Kontrol, world champions in 2009). In 2007, he founded the association Petit K, offering creative workshops that combine beatbox, theater, dance, and visual arts. On stage, he stands out as a performer: he created and performed in Diplomatics (a sound-based piece about exile), incorporated beatbox into Zero de Conduite with the Artonik company, and took on the role of actor-beatboxer in BOUCAN with Cirk biZ'arT. As the rhythmic backbone of the group Radio Babel Marseille, he also collaborates in the piano-beatbox duos The Mymetist and Cactus Box, and co-created the live performance EXIT. His Beatbox Session events and the educational tours l'Histoire de Petit K have taken him across Europe, Mexico, and Africa, spreading the energy of human beatbox internationally.

… The Artists in the Shadows

MagniFix (Light Technician) alias "FX"
FX started his professional life in the computer field, but bifurcated in 2009 by creating the company Cirkul'R, a Marseille association specializing in the organization of carnivals bringing together everyone in a community (children, the elderly, disabled, etc).
In 2011, he co-founded the collective, Le Morozoff, a place of creation and meetings for artists of all kinds. It was there that he met Remy, with whom he accompanied on tour of Bulle de Rien before joining the Cirk biZ'arT team. Within Cirk biZ'arT he can exercise his talents of computer science, construction, management, mechanics, and innovations.

These 5 individuals are the touring team of BOUCAN.
